

What is CHS?

The Connected Health & Safety Association (CHS) is the national organization supporting companies that deliver technology-driven solutions that help people stay safe, supported, and connected. CHS brings together innovators across remote monitoring, digital health, personal safety devices, and aging-in-place services to strengthen collaboration and advance the future of connected safety.

WHY CONNECTED HEALTH & SAFETY MATTERS

Technology is transforming how people live independently, access care, and stay safe at home. From remote monitoring to digital wellness and safety platforms, connected solutions are rapidly becoming essential. CHS helps organizations understand industry trends, consumer needs, and opportunities for growth in this expanding market.

WHO CHS SERVES

CHS represents companies across the connected safety ecosystem, including service providers, software and platform solutions, digital health and wellness organizations, healthcare partners, and emerging innovators entering the space.
